Closet on the Corner Curated Consignment

Welcome

Welcome to Closet on the Corner Curated Consignment!

Thank you for trusting us with your wardrobe. We're honored you've chosen to become one of our consignors.

Closet on the Corner was created because we believe beautiful clothing deserves more than sitting in a closet. Every piece has a story, and our goal is to connect it with someone who will love it just as much.

Unlike traditional consignment stores, we take a curated approach. We carefully select pieces that align with our boutique style and market them both in-store and online to maximize their visibility.

We're excited to partner with you and can't wait to help your pieces find their next home.

Thank you for being part of the Closet on the Corner community.

— Tarryn, Owner, Closet on the Corner Curated Consignment

How Consignment Works

Step 1
Schedule your appointment.

Step 2
Bring your freshly cleaned clothing, shoes, handbags, and accessories.

Step 3
We carefully review each item and select pieces that fit our boutique.

Step 4
Accepted items are photographed, priced, tagged, and entered into inventory.

Step 5
Your items are marketed both in-store and online.

Step 6
When an item sells, you'll receive your agreed-upon commission.

Step 7
At the end of the consignment period, you'll pick up any unsold items or choose to donate them.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do you price my items?
We research current resale values, brand demand, condition, and market trends to determine competitive pricing.

Do all of my items get accepted?
Not always. We carefully curate our inventory to maintain a consistent shopping experience.

Where will my items be sold?
Items may be sold in our boutique, through our website, or on select online marketplaces.

Can prices be reduced?
Yes. Items may be marked down during promotions or toward the end of the consignment period to increase the likelihood of a sale.

When do I get paid?
Payments are issued according to our published payout schedule after eligible sales are finalized.

Thank You

Thank you for choosing Closet on the Corner Curated Consignment.
